Councilman Jack Weiss

How Safe Is LA from Terrorists and Disease?

As a member of the City Council's Public Safety Committee, Councilman Weiss has helped form the city's response to threats from terrorists. In his annual address to Tract No. 7260, the Councilman will discuss what the city is doing to protect you from bioterror and chemical threats as well as from health problems such as SARS. He also will state his response to the proposed Trammell Crow project in Century City, and he will outline his plans to monitor construction on Santa Monica Blvd. In addition, he will report on how the city is reacting to the current budget crisis and how he is trying to avoid cuts in city services.
